

Qualifications-Based Selection Awards

QBS Georgia would like to recognize private companies and public agencies that promote and practice hiring design professionals through a competitive qualifications-based selection (QBS) process. Recipients of the awards will be honored for their outstanding contributions to and support for obtaining the highest level of quality and the greatest public good in procuring architectural, engineering, surveying, mapping, and landscape architecture services through a Qualifications-Based Selection process.

AWARD CATEGORIES:

QBS Georgia will recognize recipients in two categories:

- Government Sector – includes states, municipalities, local governments, departments or agencies of government, school districts, university systems, public utility systems, publicly funded research laboratories, and special purpose districts.
- Private Sector - includes private corporations, privately funded research labs, private utility companies, design professionals, construction contractors, developers and any non-government entity that uses design professional services.

For both awards, any public agency or private company who uses a Qualifications-Based Selection (QBS) process may be nominated. Their contribution, whether in the form of legislation, policy and regulation, public affairs, advocacy programs, publications, or by example, must embody the commitment to obtaining the highest level of quality and the greatest public good through extended support and promotion of QBS in the procurement of architectural and engineering services. Nominees mandated by law to use qualifications-based selection are eligible provided they have exhibited exceptional leadership in qualifications-based selection.
